

INTELLIGENT GROUP MESSAGING & CLOSED-LOOP COMMUNICATION

KEEP YOUR COMMUNITY IN THE LOOP

1Fiit PulseLoop™ is a cloud-based group communication platform designed to help organizations create trusted channels for announcements, updates, conversations, and community engagement.

From campus food-rescue initiatives and student communications to product updates, customer communities, and workplace groups, PulseLoop™ gives organizations a flexible way to connect the right people through one branded, centralized platform.

Create public groups, subscription-based groups, invitation-only communities, private member groups, manager-led announcement channels, or moderated two-way discussions—all configured around the needs of each organization and audience.

INTELLIGENT GROUP MESSAGING

REACH THE RIGHT PEOPLE AT THE RIGHT TIME

Create and manage communication groups for individuals, teams, departments, customers, communities, or entire organizations from one centralized platform.

Whether sharing routine updates, event information, product announcements, service notices, or important organizational communications, PulseLoop™ helps make sure each message is shared with the intended audience.

MESSAGING CAPABILITIES

Targeted Group Messaging

Individual, Team & Department Groups

Community Communication Channels

Manager-Led Announcements

Product & Service Updates

Event & Program Notifications

Multi-Location Communication

Centralized Cloud Management

Simplify organizational communication with flexible group messaging tools that help keep people informed, connected, and engaged.

FLEXIBLE GROUP ACCESS

CREATE GROUPS THAT FIT YOUR COMMUNITY

Every organization has different audiences, access needs, and communication goals. PulseLoop™ gives administrators the flexibility to build the right type of group for every situation.

Create open groups for news and events, subscription groups that require agreement to participation terms, invitation-only groups for selected members, or private channels for controlled communication.

CLOSED-LOOP COMMUNICATION

MORE THAN A MESSAGE. A CONNECTED CONVERSATION.

PulseLoop™ helps organizations move beyond one-way announcements by creating structured communication loops between administrators and group members.

Some groups can be configured for official manager-only updates, while others can allow replies, questions, feedback, and moderated conversations. This gives organizations the freedom to communicate clearly while encouraging participation where it matters most.

COMMUNICATION CONTROLS

Deliver official updates when needed, invite conversation when appropriate, and keep every communication channel organized in one trusted place.

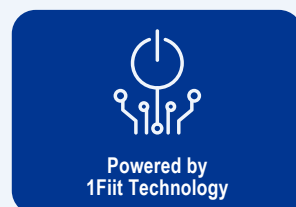

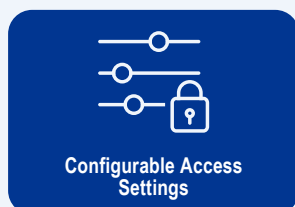

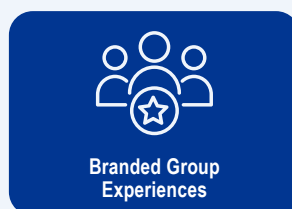

BRANDED ORGANIZATION PORTALS

YOUR ORGANIZATION. YOUR GROUPS. YOUR BRAND.

PulseLoop™ allows organizations to create a dedicated communication destination for their own communities.

Configure organization logos, colors, group descriptions, participation rules, and access requirements to create a branded experience that feels native to each organization, while retaining the trusted PulseLoop™ and 1Fiit Technology foundation.

BRANDING & ADMINISTRATION

Create a communication experience that reflects your organization while benefiting from a scalable, cloud-based PulseLoop™ platform.

WHY CHOOSE PULSELOOP™

Traditional messaging tools are often too open, too informal, or too limited for organizational communication.

PulseLoop™ gives organizations a more structured way to create and manage communication groups for different audiences. From official announcement channels to active community discussions, organizations can decide who can join, who can post, how participation works, and how each group is presented.

By combining flexible group access, branded organization portals, manager-led communication, and controlled two-way participation, PulseLoop™ helps organizations keep their communities informed, connected, and in the loop.
